

Head of Engineering

Engineering and Technical

Creating new things together – Your tasks in our team:

- Provide direction, motivation, and leadership to the National Infrastructure, Highrise and Scaffolding Competency Centre managers and oversee their legal and contractual duties and the successful delivery of projects to scope, cost, quality and programme
- Contribute to the development and implementation of strategies which minimise operational risk, maximise operational performance and deliver sustainable growth
- Support and deputise where necessary for the Engineering Director in matters of H&S compliance, industry engagement and UK representation with Global partners
- Determine Engineering capabilities and identify improvement needs while balancing departmental budgets
- Deliver wide ranging expertise and guidance in engineering application and technical leadership across the business

Aiming high and strongly connected - the benefits for you:

- 20 days annual leave entitlement plus Bank Holidays
- 5 days annual leave for Christmas shut down
- Company pension contributions 3% employee + 6% contribution
- Private Healthcare cover & Death in service x2 base salary
- Non contractual annual bonus
- Fixed salary + Engineering MBO incentive bonus

WE do not work without YOU – What distinguishes you:

- An engineering degree: BSc minimum in a Construction related subject
- Chartered Membership of an appropriate professional institution or equivalent experience is desirable
- Management & Health and Safety
- Ability to learn and adapt to PERI and its products quickly

At PERI, we are committed to creating and maintaining a culture of diversity and inclusion. Our greatest strength at PERI is our people and when recruiting, we welcome the unique contributions that candidates can bring to shape and enhance the future of our business.

Would you like to take on responsibility at an early stage and shape the future of our industry?

Then PERI is the right employer for you. For more than 50 years, we have combined the down-to-earth nature of a family run business with the economic success of a global player.

Every day, a team of more than 9,100 people worldwide create the milestones of construction history together with our customers.

Do you want to explore your opportunities at PERI?

Apply now and become part of our team!

